

Decision On Governorship Left To Court In Georgia Row

Atlanta, Jan. 20 (AP) — In a face-to-face encounter across the executive desk, Herman Talmadge refused today to yield the governorship of Georgia to Lt. Gov. M. E. Thompson, who claims to be "acting governor."

Thompson then announced he would occupy the office of Senate President on the second floor of the state capitol "until this matter is fully adjudicated by the courts of Georgia."

Talmadge told Thompson "you have no right to claim this office. There is no vacancy. The General Assembly of Georgia has elected me as governor."

"No Objection"

Thompson, wearing a brown overcoat and clutching a brief case, said "I will take issue with you on that. If the courts decide that I am lawful governor I call on you to cooperate with me fully in the best interests of the state. By the same token, if you are declared governor it is my purpose to cooperate with you."

Talmadge made no reply to this. Thompson said "then there is no argument between us but that this shall go to a decision in the courts?" Talmadge answered in the affirmative and Thompson arose to leave, saying he would occupy offices of the Senate President until the matter is adjudicated.

Talmadge said "there will be no objection from me."

Rescue Pair After Polar Plane Crash

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Little America, Jan. 19 (Delayed) — Capt. George Dufek, commander of the eastern Antarctic task group, and his pilot, were rescued uninjured today from icy Polar waters after their helicopter crashed into the sea. The plane was lost.

Admiral Richard Cruzen gave no details of the rescue other than to say the pilot, whom he did not further identify, and Dufek, a passenger, escaped injury. Both men were life preservers.

Cruzen said the plane, its rotor blades coated with ice, dropped into the sea while attempting to land on the platform of the Pine Island, seaplane tender. The plane was not equipped with floats.

It was the eastern's second plane crash in three weeks. A PBM flying boat crashed three weeks ago, killing three of nine crew members.

Meantime, Cruzen announced that the submarine Sennet will give up its attempts to cut through the ice pack encircling Little America and will start home about February 1.

The Sennet is now in the vicinity of Scott Island, outside the pack. It was escorted there by the icebreaker Northwind after making a futile attempt to get through the ice.

NEARLY HALF OF TOWN'S QUOTA IN ON SCOUT DRIVE

Gettysburg had secured nearly one-half of its $8,212 quota in the drive to raise $100,000 for a new Boy Scout camp serving York and Adams county, according to reports presented at noon today at a meeting of chairmen and solicitors for the drive at the Hotel Gettysburg. Bendersville and York Springs were announced as the two Adams county communities who have already exceeded their quotas and officials of the drive in those towns were said to be seeking to double the amount originally set for them to collect.

The Black Walnut district, which includes Gettysburg, has raised $4,347.50 of its quota of $11,595, the reports showed. Gettysburg has raised $3,812.50 of its $8,212 quota.

Communities Report
All of the amounts turned in today were from four communities in the district. Bendersville has turned in $300. Its quota was $295. Cashtown's $200 nearly equaled its $285 quota. Luther Lady, Arendtsville chairman, reported $35 collected there with the drive just getting underway. The community is seeking to raise $250.

John Fidler, Biglerville chairman, said that amounts collected in its drive to raise $1,468 will be reported at a meeting of the Lions club Tuesday evening. Idaville, with a quota of $350; Fairfield, $285, and Orrtanna, $350, will also wait a meeting of the committee in charge in that section before any reports are given from those communities.

Biggest single amount turned in at today's session was a $1,000 check from the Gettysburg Moose handed in by Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the organizations' solicitation in the community. M. C. Jones, industries chairman turned in $1,905. Elmer Warren, reporting for Edmund W. Thomas, turned in $849.50.

Shipley Speaks
W. S. Shipley, York, president of the York company and general chairman of the $100,000 campaign, told the group, "You are not simply raising money to provide a camp for the recreation of some 3,000 boys in the two counties. You are investing that amount in America. This is not a matter of providing a good time for the youngsters—it is a case of training the youth of America who will be the future leaders of America."

"The greatest need today is for men of understanding. We have fought two disastrous wars in the past generation. We are torn politically, economically by the leadership of men who lack understanding. Scouting, by bringing boys together, causing them to work together, teaching them real Americanism can give them that understanding which they will need when America becomes theirs to lead."

"We must look beyond the present in what we do. This camp may mark a turning point in American affairs. It will train the great leadership of the future."

Joseph Rosensteel Still In Hospital

Joseph L. Rosensteel, Gettysburg R. 1, historian at the Gettysburg National Museum, who suffered back, shoulder and chest injuries in an automobile accident in November, is expected to be discharged from the Hanover hospital in about three weeks, it was learned today.

He had previously been scheduled to return home about Christmas time but doctors at Hanover were unable to place a cast to protect his broken back due to a lung condition. One lung collapsed from fluid that formed in the chest cavity when six ribs, broken in the smash-up, punctured the lining about the lung. Until the lung is restored to normal no cast can be placed. He has been permitted to sit up for short periods recently using a brace to support his back.

College Trustees Hear Drive Plans

Plans for the coming drive to raise $500,000 for Gettysburg college were outlined Saturday afternoon at a luncheon meeting of the board of trustees of the college at Wilmington, Del., where the members were guests at a dinner of Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, president of the board.

The fund campaign will begin February 10 with all alumni throughout the world meeting at dinner in 40 larger cities at that time to listen to a broadcast by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college; Richard C. Wetzel, chairman of the campaign, and William H. Patrick, Jr., Philadelphia, president of the alumni.

C. H. Greshman, campaign manager, told the trustees the details of campaign. Subscriptions up to the present time argue well for the success of the drive, the trustees were told.

MORE SPONSORS ANNOUNCED FOR PARALYSIS FUND

Sponsors for the annual dance to raise money for the Adams county Infantile Paralysis fund today topped the 160 mark and officials of the drive said that the total number will probably reach 300 before representatives of the fund soliciting sponsorships complete their work.

Sponsor tickets to the dance, which will be held at the Hotel Gettysburg on January 30, go to those who donate $5 or more to the drive.

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman for the campaign, announced additional sponsors from Gettysburg as follows: Attorney and Mrs. Raymond Topper, Loyal Order of Moose, Mitchell's restaurant, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. AUTO DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED

Settlement of a friendly suit growing out of an automobile accident was made Saturday morning in York by leave of Judge Walter I. Anderson.

The plaintiff in the case was Doris Weaver Smith, a minor, by her husband and guardian, Bernard Smith, of New Oxford. Named as defendant was Lewis Breighner, Jr., of McSherrytown.

The action, a complaint in trespass, alleged that the plaintiff suffered injuries on June 8, 1946, while a passenger in the defendant's car. Breighner was operating an automobile north on Highway 94 when his car collided head-on with another car approaching from the opposite direction, about three miles north of Hanover.

Negligence was charged in that the driver crossed the center of the highway into the left lane, that he failed to have the vehicle under proper and adequate control, and that he "otherwise failed to regard the rights and safety of the minor plaintiff." Mrs. Smith suffered lacerations and abrasions of the face, hands and knees, and a fractured bone in the right hand. She was confined to the Hanover hospital for a period of nine days following the crash.

The complaint asked $500, including $70 to pay the hospital bill, $45 for physicians' services, and $200 for loss of wages. Under the settlement agreed upon, the sum of $115 is awarded to the minor defendant for doctors' and hospital bills, and the sum of $300 to the senior plaintiff in her behalf.

Plans to stage a rally this fall similar to the ones held here, at Littlestown and at Paradise Proctery during the years immediately preceding World War II were discussed Sunday at the quarterly meeting of the Southern Regional Union of Holy Name societies at St. Francis Preparatory school, Spring Grove.

Whether Gettysburg or York will be the site of the next rally was left undecided with the group planning to continue its study of details of the rally when it meets here in April. At the previous rally here nearly 1,500 Holy Name society members gathered for the rally held on the battlefield.

Marshall Takes Oath On Tuesday; Plane Grounded

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall will take his oath as Secretary of State tomorrow at the White House. The exact hour will depend upon the time of his arrival here.

Marshall originally was scheduled to be sworn in at 11 a. m. today. But bad weather forced his plane to land at Chicago on a flight from the west coast.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference of the change in plans. He said:

"It will be held sometime tomorrow, depending on the time of the arrival of General Marshall." Ross said the President has not talked personally with Marshall and the White House did not know whether the general would take a train or resume his flight when the weather lifted.

In Chicago, Marshall told newsmen he probably would continue his trip by train.

The Army's Air Transport Command headquarters reported there was "no possible chance" of Marshall completing the trip by air today. Weather conditions here were de-

MAY LAUNCH GUARD UNIT BY FEBRUARY 1

Adams county's new National Guard outfit, Company A of the 104th Cavalry, may be re-constituted February 1.

Maj. Gen. E. J. Stackpole, commanding general of the 28th Division today forwarded a request to the U. S. War Department for activation of the 104th Cavalry reconnaissance squadron being organized here, at Harrisburg, Carlisle and Tyrone, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Carlisle and Tyrone all had troops of the pre-war 104th Cavalry regiment, which became the 104th Cavalry Group and the 104th and 119th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadrons during World War II service in the U. S. and the European Theater of Operations. With the 28th Cavalry Reconnaissance troop, the old "First City Troop" of Philadelphia in the 28th Infantry Division, the 104th represents the last and now completely mechanized vestiges of a mass of cavalry which Pennsylvania once supported.

Dr. Harbach Medical Officer
Gettysburg's Company E in the pre-war National Guard was a motor maintenance outfit.

Captain Robert L. Scott, provisional commanding officer of Company A, here said that while he had been notified today of the request for activation made by General Stackpole no arrangements have been made as yet to have a public celebration of the event provided such activation is approved.

Dr. Harrison Harbach, World War II medical officer who today opened offices for general practice here, has been named provisional medical officer for the county's National Guard troop, Captain Scott said today. Those who have enlisted so far in the troop will be given physical examinations Thursday night by Doctor Harbach.

The company has made another step toward active duty with the establishment of an office at the armory for Captain Scott. The officer publicly thanked the Gettysburg college ROTC unit for its aid in setting up the office, and for other assistance given to the new organization by officers and men of the ROTC.

Here And There News Collected At Random

It is good news, but not surprising news, that the Annie M. Warner hospital has again been awarded full approval by the American College of Surgeons for the year 1946. . . . thus retaining, its enviable and well-deserved position of being officially classified as a first class hospital.

The American College of Surgeons, representing some 14,500 leading surgeons in the United States, Canada and other countries, carries on extensive work each year in improving hospital service and inspecting hospitals for approved, provisional approval or disqualification as a first class hospital.

For the first time since hospital standardization was started by the College in 1918, when only 89 hospitals were approved, there is a decline. Dr. Irvin Abell, of Louisville, President and Chairman of the Board of Regents, said, in the number of approved hospitals compared with the previous year. Last year 3,181 hospitals were on the approved list. On December 31 of last year, 3,118 hospitals achieved this high rating.

Hospitals are reconsidered for approval each year. The fact that a hospital is once approved does not mean that it stays approved. If at any time it fails to measure up to the high quality of efficiency it is disqualified. The Annie M. Warner hospital has never fallen by the way. It has steadily maintained its high rating.

The fundamental requirements for approval are:
Modern physical plant, assurance of adequate medical staff.

PLANS SET FOR INAUGURATION OF JAMES DUFF

By L. U. LESLIE

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—Six-foot James H. Duff was the center of all official state activity today as final touches were put to plans for his inauguration tomorrow as the 34th governor of Pennsylvania.

In an outdoor ceremony a few minutes after noon, Duff will take over direction of the Keystone state for the next four years of postwar readjustment with a declared need for higher taxes to finance expanded state services as a top problem.

The sandy-haired attorney will take the oath on a temporary white-painted wooden inaugural stand built at the foot of the capitol steps in a ceremony steeped in tradition but stripped of pomp and pageantry.

Three In One Month

Chief Justice George W. Maxey, of the Pennsylvania State Supreme court, will administer the oath to Duff—elected to the high office last November in the Republican landslide—as thousands look on from the inaugural stand or about it on the Capitol lawn and Third street.

Duff's inauguration will complete a precedent-making change of state administrations, which resulted in Pennsylvania being served by three governors in the same month.

The situation developed January 2 when Governor Edward Martin resigned to take his seat in the U. S. Senate. Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., took over immediately as chief executive to head a "caretaker" state government for 20 days until Duff's induction.

Three special trains are to arrive today from Pittsburgh carrying several hundred western Pennsylvanians. On one train will be 300 friends and neighbors from Duff's Carnegie home. Additionally, the Pennsylvania railroad announced it would add three special cars to its regularly scheduled trains.

Martin To Be There

By Duff's own request, the inaugural committee arranged "a simple and dignified" inauguration much similar to the induction four years ago of the Keystone State's wartime executive, who discarded much of the pomp and pageantry of past inaugurations because of war conditions.

There will be no parade but the inaugural ball Tuesday night—a top social event—was retained.

Should bad weather develop, the inauguration will be held in the forum of the education building, which was the scene because of rain of Martin's oath-taking in 1943.

The Republican delegates in Congress, headed by Senator Martin, state officials and employees from all levels as well as prominent personages from all sections of the state will witness the inaugural ceremonies.

BULLETS PLAY WELL BUT BOW TO LAFAYETTE

An inspired Gettysburg college basketball team turned in its best performance of the season here Saturday night but it was not quite enough and the Bullets dropped a hard fought and thrilling contest to Lafayette 46-43 before a capacity crowd.

Lafayette, beaten only by Muhlenberg in eight starts this season, was favored to dispose of the Bullets easily but instead was forced to give everything it had to gain victory.

Coach "Hen" Bream had his boys keyed to the right pitch and they outbatted the taller and huskier Leopards through the better part of the game. Failure to convert consistently from the free throw lane proved costly to the Bullets, only 11 of 22 tosses being made. The Bullets tabbed 16 goals to 15 for the visitors. Lafayette looped 16 of 25 free throws.

It took nearly three minutes before the first point of the game was scored, Semko looping a foul. Zippel and Skvoretz followed with goals before Dracha connected on a side shot. Semko and Sachs matched goals and Pure added a foul. Fouts by Milne and Semko gave the Leopards a 9-5 lead at the quarter.

Locals Take Lead
The Bullets started strong in the second period and took the lead. Hart netted the second of two fouls and Sachs and Pure looped one-handed stabs to send the locals ahead 10-9. Jordan tied the count with a foul. Pure put the Bullets out in front for the last time with a short toss. Lafayette forged ahead as the tempo increased. With the visitors lead 17-14 and but a minute of the half remaining Rambo netted a goal. With only 15 seconds remaining Jordan landed a shot from near mid-court to make the count 19-16 at half time.

Lafayette slowly but surely took command in the third period and piled up a 35-26 lead at the end of the third frame.

Coach Anderson's outfit had an 11-point lead early in the fourth period when Semko netted a goal. Then the Bullets began to click to give the fans a rip-roaring finish.

Hacking away at the Lafayette lead, goals by Akers and Brown and free tosses by Pure, Brown and March cut the margin to 39-34 after four minutes. A pair of goals by Akers and one by Zippel made the score 41-38 with three minutes and 50 seconds remaining.

A pair of fouls by Milne was followed by a tap-in by Akers. Zippel and Brown matched fouls with two minutes remaining. With little more than a minute remaining March pulled the count to 44-43 on a short stab. Lafayette, who had been playing a stalling game, managed to get the ball through with Zippel scoring on a shot from beneath the hoop to clinch the decision as the game ended.

BUCS BECOME TOUGH OUTFIT

Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—The most dangerous club in the major leagues this year may well be the lowly seventh-place Pittsburgh Pirates, owners of the two 1946 home run kings.

The Pirates already had the National league's home run champion in Rookie Outfielder Ralph Kiner who slugged out 23 circuit blows. The purchase of Hank Greenberg from Detroit—who topped American league swatters with 44—gives the Buccos a one-two punch that bodes no good for rivals.

What's more the Pittsburgh outfield also has Jim Russell, making it the hardest-hitting fielders' crew seen here since the 1927 days of the two Waners and Woody Jensen.

Big Drawing Card
Purchase of the 36-year-old Greenberg from the Tigers—the price was understood to be $50,000—gives the Pirates one of the game's biggest drawing cards. The seven other American league clubs waived all rights to Greenberg.

Asked if the Pirates had any plans to move the left field scoreboard in Forbes Field to benefit the home run slugger, Roy Hamey, Pirate general manager, replied:

"No, not this season, at least."
The left-field line distance at Forbes Field is 365 feet compared with 340 at Briggs Stadium in Detroit where Greenberg hammered out most of his 311 home runs in eight seasons.

Greenberg led the American league in the home run department four times: in 1935 with 36; in 1938 with 58; in 1940 with 41 and last season with 44.

Says Greenberg To Help National

Philadelphia, Jan. 20 (AP)—The sale of Slugger Hank Greenberg to the Pittsburgh Pirates is going to help the National league.

That, anyway, is the opinion of Herb Pennock, general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies.

"We are sure glad to see him in our league," Pennock says. "He'll add color, pep and punch to the Pirates, aid their drawing power and help all of us (in the National league)."

Moose Bowlers Nip Steelton Outfit

The Gettysburg Moose swept all three games in a bowling match with the Steelton Moose here Sunday afternoon.

Pacing the winners was Cerjanic, with a total score of 524. Crake, of Steelton, was high for a single game with 181.

Next Sunday the local team meets the Hanover Moose at Hanover.

Jayvees Nip Squires
Each and every Bully player put up a grand game. Grayden Akers, promoted from the jayvee squad, was impressive and his four goals in the last quarter nearly pulled the Bullets to victory.

Coach Roy Bloomingdale's smooth performing Bullets reserves kept their undefeated record intact by polishing off a hopelessly outclassed Delone Catholic high team in the preliminary 42-23. The Bullets starters rolled up an 18-0 lead after which they were yanked. Eleven reserve members of the squad finished the contest.

Caps And Barons Leading Division

(By The Associated Press)
The Indianapolis Capitals shared first place in the western division of the American Hockey league today with the Cleveland Barons.

Starting and finishing strong, the Caps defeated the Providence Reds 4-2 last night to gain two points and draw abreast of the Barons.

Buffalo moved into undisputed possession of third place downing the Barons 5-2. Prior to the game, the Bisons shared the place with

MAROONS PLAY AT HANOVER ON TUESDAY NIGHT

A keen athletic rivalry will be revived Tuesday evening when the Gettysburg high cagers invade Hanover to battle the Hanover high Nighthawks in a South Penn league game, the result of which will be highly important in the race for top honors.

Last year a highly favored Maroon quintet went to Hanover needing but a victory to assure itself a playoff with Chambersburg for the southern division title but the Hanover lads pulled an upset to knock the Maroons from the running.

With that in mind the Forerunners will be doubly anxious for a victory Tuesday. However, Hanover has come up with a very fine team this year and promises to give the locals a busy evening. The Nighthawks have height, poise and general all-around ability and rank as one of the strongest teams in the circuit. Always a difficult team to down on their home court, Hanover is favored in many circles to again but a crimp in the Gettysburg title hopes.

Locals Show Scrap
At present the Maroons and Chambersburg are leading the race with three wins against no setbacks.

If Coach Porney can whip his team into the form they exhibited against Carlisle during the second half last Friday a Maroon triumph would not be surprising. Fans are still talking about the great spurt put on by the Maroons against Carlisle after appearing to be hopelessly beaten at half time, and the present team is rightfully classed as one of the scrappiest aggregations to represent the school in a long time.

The scrub teams will clash in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

Other games listed for the league Tuesday evening include Chambersburg at Mechanicsburg, Waynesboro at Carlisle, and Shippensburg at Hershey.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Al (Red) Priest, Johnny Buckley's middleweight who makes his Madison Square Garden debut tonight, was a roofer until he learned there was more money in boxing. . . . He surely ought to know what to do when the roof caves in—which it won't against Ruben Shank. . . . Emmet T. Ormsby, Jr., son of the retired American league umpire, has signed a contract to play with Wisconsin Rapids of the Wisconsin State league. . . . Johnny Alsup, Oklahoma U. back who played through the football season without an injury, accidentally spiked himself the other day practising for the 60-yard dash. . . . After winning 88 straight games, Parrish high school of Selma, Ala., had its basketball winning streak snapped the other day by Chilton high of Clanton, Ala. . . . Wonder what Maurice Bloch will find to talk about now?

MONDAY MATINEE
Three former Minnesota athletes now in the pro football business, Bobby Paffrath, Bill Daley and Gordy Paschka, are back in school for the winter quarter. . . . Pete Tarpley, once a pretty good lightweight, is trying to revive amateur boxing in his home town of Athens, Ga. As a starter for professional promotion. . . . Fisticuffing ought to be quite popular down that way. . . . George Eastment, Manhattan track coach, figures that nobody should beat little Jimmy Rafferty at two or three miles during the indoor season. . . . The Cincinnati Reds figure that Ted Kluszewski, who hit plenty of homers in the Sally league last season, is the guy who may lead the National league in home runs some day. . . . The 13-man Virginia Tech basketball squad has only five Virginians. Would you call that a Tech-nical foul?

BUT WHAT A PAST!
The night that bouncer Taylor was bounced as coach of the St. Louis Flyers Hockey team, he encountered Ken Loeffler, pilot of the basketball looper who had more than his share of troubles in college coaching. . . . "Bouncer," Ken consoling, "I just want to tell you there are only two kinds of coaches in this world—those who already have been fired and those who are still to be fired." . . . When someone brought up that remark a few nights later, Loeffler elaborated: "When I read that Amos Alonzo Stagg had been fired at college of the Pacific, I knew I was right. When you still can't have security after 60 years in the business, there's no future in it."

the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Despite the fine work of Philadelphia goalie Nick Damore, the New Haven Ramblers came from behind with a three-goal rally in the third period to nip the lowly Rockets 4-3.

Beaver, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—The collision of an automobile and a Beaver Valley Motor company bus Saturday killed Ralph E. Burroughs, of Beaver. The crash occurred beneath the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad viaduct here. Mrs. Lillian Wilkie, 42, and Mrs. Margaret Banks, both of Newport and both bus passengers, were slightly injured.

F-M Dribblers Here Tonight

Hopes are high for a Gettysburg college victory tonight when the Bullet cagers entertain Franklin and Marshall on the local floor following the fine performance the Bream-men turned in against the powerful Lafayette dribblers here Saturday.

The Diplomats come here with an impressive record on the basis of which they rule a slight favorite. However, the Bullets need but to exhibit the form they did against the Leopards to get back into the win column.

At 7 o'clock the unbeaten junior varsity will go after its fourth straight at the expense of the F. and M. Jayvees.

CURVES GIVE SWEDE TROUBLE

Philadelphia, Jan. 20 (AP)—Rune Gustafsson, the soft spoken, fast moving Swede, was in town today to acquaint himself with the "troublesome curves" he must face here Friday night in the first big indoor mile of 1947.

Gustafsson's Swedish companion, Haakon Lidman, high hurdles champion of his native country since 1934 and winner of two 1945 Penn relay carnival events, explained that "the curves on American indoor tracks give Rune most trouble. They are sharper than those to which he is accustomed and require a different stride. Then, the way they are banked, the slope is something he has never seen before."

The two will participate in the meet sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc.

Thrown Off Stride
Lidman, explaining for the non-English-speaking Gustafsson, said American runners like the steep banks, running "wide and high around them in order to gain added momentum for the straightaways by speeding downgrade."

"Rune does not like that," Lidman said. "He likes to stay inside, though sometimes he has to go outside if the bank is too steep. But it is not good; it throws him off stride."

The two Swedes were anxious to learn of the competition they will face in the Inquirer's third annual indoor track and field meet. Both admitted they had their work cut out for them when informed of the formidable array of competitors.

Kneeling at the starting line with Gustafsson will be Leslie Mac-Mitchell, indoor U. S. champion and winner of the Inquirer mile last year; Bill Hulse, holder of the American citizens' criterion of 4:06; NYU Frank Dixon; and a comparative newcomer to the mile scene, Penn state's Gerry Karver.

Long John Woodruff, who pulled a tendon while working out last week, is a doubtful starter. The 1936 Olympic 800-meter champion, unable to run in the Columbus council games at Brooklyn a week ago, is reported ready to hang up his spikes for good.

Michigan Star Wins 4 Titles

Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—Winning four out of five senior titles, Charles Moss, of Wheeling, staged a one-man triumph yesterday in the Allegheny mountain association AAU championship swimming meet here.

The University of Michigan star won the 100-yard free-style, backstroke and breaststroke events as well as the 180-yard individual Medley title. The 50-yard free-style race was won by John Boyd of Erie.

In the junior events, Stanley Figurski of Erie won the 50-yard free-style race and Walter Donaldson of Meadville copped the 100-yard backstroke.

Denmark, Norway and Sweden were once united as a single nation.

G-BURG MATMEN DEFEAT TEMPLE; SCRUBS TRIUMPH

Clyde Cole's Gettysburg college wrestlers won their second straight match by defeating Temple university here Saturday afternoon 19-13.

The Owls got off to a fast start when Vovakes and Glossner copped the 121 and 128-pound events by falls. Joe Erb, 136, followed by throwing Hughes with a body press for the Bullets' initial win. Dick Sassaman won the 145-pound event by gaining a decision over Dorezo.

Cantagalli, 155, Temple, took that event with a decision while Don Morris and Dick Binder won decisions in the 165 and 175-pound events, respectively, for Gettysburg.

The outcome of the match depended on the heavyweight event and Nels Gibble made good for the Bullets by scoring the fastest fall of the afternoon in throwing Jones in one minute and 20 seconds.

The Bullet junior varsity won from the Western Maryland reserves in the preliminary event, 20-17.

The results:

121-pound—Vovakes, Temple, pinned Schmittthener, double bar arm (2:10).

128-pound—Glossner, Temple, pinned McCutcheon, double bar arm (5:54).

136-pound—Erb, Gettysburg, pinned Hughes, body press (2:51).

NEW STAR RISES AMONG GOLFERS

Richmond, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—George Schoux, a boy who learned his golf on the public links of San Francisco and graduated into the professional ranks just a year ago this week, developed into another threat to the scoring kings of the PGA yesterday by winning the $10,000 Richmond open golf championship with a 16 under par score of 268.

Schoux, who jumped four strokes ahead of the field with a third round total of 197 Saturday, stood off the challenge of two of golf's all-time greats in the final round—U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum and the nation's leading money winner Benny Hogan—without cracking.

In the final threesome of the tournament, Schoux played cautious, consistent golf for a par 71 against a 70 scored by Mangrum—who posted a final total of 271 to tie for third with Hogan—and Chick Harbert of Farmington, Michigan. Hogan scored a final round of 68 and Harbert had a 66.

Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas, whose sartorial splendor as well as his golf continued to "wow" the spectators, slipped in with an early

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Health of Gettysburg: From reports that have been spread, far and wide in regard to the prevalence of disease in this place, we deem it our duty to state that, with the exception of a malignant fever which has prevailed in the building of the Theological Seminary, originating from local causes unknown, our town has never been more clear of disease in any season than the present.—Amongst the inmates of that building, a typhoid fever made its appearance some weeks ago, which has proved fatal to four young men in the seminary. Several others are still unwell—but we believe that they all are convalescent, with the exception of one.—The fever never extended itself to the college or the town, nor at all beyond the limits of the Seminary building.

Married: On the 5th inst., at Conowago Chapel, by the Rev. Mr. Gibbons, Mr. Jacob Noel, of Mount-pleasant township, to Miss Lidwin

Dolhommer, of Union township.

On the 22d ult., by the Rev. J.

Gutellus, Mr. Joseph Nary, to Miss

Anna Maria Dargues—both of this county.

On the 3d inst., by the Rev. J.

Sechler, Mr. Edward Stoner, of this county, to Miss Ann Elizabeth

Little, of Carroll county, Md.

On the 1st inst., by the Rev. D.

D. Hartman, Mr. Frederick Gelwicks, to Miss Sidney A. Davenport—both of Petersburg, (Y. S.).

Sant Anna had but a majority of two votes as President of Mexico.

Died: On Thursday morning at the Theological Seminary in this place, Mr. Daniel A. Willeman, of Hollidaysburg, Pa. His remains were conveyed to the English Lutheran church, which after an impressive discourse by the Rev. Prof. Baugher, they were removed to the burying ground attached to St. James' church.

On Friday night, at the Theological Seminary, Mr. George Albert, of Menallen township, this county.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

At Home: Hon. Edward McPherson

was called home from Washington on Tuesday by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his youngest child. He left for Washington Thursday noon, the child now being out of danger.

New Band: For some time past efforts have been made to organize a new brass band in this place, which have proved successful. A fine set of new instruments has been secured. Mr. Clinton Danner has been elected leader. A room has been secured in Spangler's new building.

Robert D. Armor, the new County

Treasurer, has entered on the duties of his office. Capt. Martin, the retiring Treasurer, was a courteous officer, and we have no doubt that

Mr. Armor will also prove equally acceptable.

Overpayments To GI's Are Deducted

Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—The veterans administration seeks about $600,000 in federal subsidy checks issued to student veterans in a 31-county western Pennsylvania area whose earnings have boosted them over allowed maximums.

Alvin R. Guyler, regional manager, said the over-payments are being deducted from veterans' monthly payments gradually to avoid hardships. Ceilings on income have been set at $175 a month for single veterans and $200 for those with dependents, including subsistence.

Banker-Socialite Charged With Theft

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—Lack of $100,000 bail kept Robert C. Love, former banker and member of a socially prominent family, in the Lawrence county jail today on a charge of embezzling $220,000 from the First Securities Co., of which he was president.

Love, who headed the securities firm until recently, will be given a hearing Wednesday before Alderman L. Claude Mantz.

CHAMPS MEET STRONG READING QUINTET NEXT

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—A lull in league campaigns across the state will give Pennsylvania scholastic basketball fans an opportunity to compare the relative strength of league and sectional leaders in all parts of the Commonwealth.

Allentown's state champions, proud possessors of a 57-game winning streak, invade Reading tomorrow night to meet the current leaders of the Central Penn conference. The Berks county five has only lost one game in ten starts, bowing to Bethlehem over a month ago, and might be just the team to check the high-flying Canaries.

Coach J. Birney Crum will be starting his Canaries into their third year of unbeaten basketball against Reading. It was two years ago, on January 19, 1945, that Bethlehem turned back the Allentown five, 33-30, and since then two state titles have been won and the old record of 45 straight victories, established by Hazleton, shattered.

LADY THROWS CANE AWAY AFTER TAKING NEW RHU-AID FORMULA

One lady, who was unable to walk six weeks ago, due to rheumatic pains, says she is enjoying a normal life once again since she took RHU-AID. In fact, she says she has thrown her cane away. This lady had to stay in the house for weeks at a time, unable to get out much. Rheumatic pains centered in the joints of her knees and ankles. She says she felt stiff all over. But in less than a week's time, when she started taking RHU-AID, the awful rheumatic pains disappeared from her legs and ankles. She is well and happy today and says she wouldn't take a fortune for the relief RHU-AID has given her.

RHU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Gettysburg.

DANCE ON THE DESERT

By Florence Theel

Chapter 19
"Just take a look at this!" Mr. Halliday was back from Palm Springs with the Saturday afternoon paper. With a triumphant smile, he handed it to Bert and Eddy. "That Mr. Shayne is sure a friend."

Goggle-eyed, the boys read the reporter's glowing write-up: "SWING WIZARD, BERT McLANE, Conducts Alvarado Merry Makers at new Hacienda Night Club. More than a hundred well-dressed people motored from Los Angeles last evening to applaud the Alvarado Merry Makers at their gala opening at the new Hacienda restaurant and nightclub, seven miles out along the main road. Nice tribute to the popularity of the band's tall, dark-and-handsome conductor, Bert McLane, who, with his brother Edward, arrived in Palm Springs a few weeks ago to open their establishment."

The article described the transformation of the fire-wrecked residence into a colorful hostelry, concluding with a wonderful plug: "Swing music, with an extra something, plus novel entertainment guarantee a lift even to the chronically bored. And if the food served is a fair sample, Palm Springs residents have a gastronomic treat in store. Those who can take a hint will make their reservations early."

"This explains why the phone's been ringing ever since you left—reservations for tonight and tomorrow!" Eddy said. "It's better than a thousand dollars worth of advertising," Bert declared with enthusiasm. "Good old Pepper Shayne!"

"You made a hit with him, he said, when you put your show on just for him, last night." The telephone was ringing again. Eddy answered, like a well-trained operator: "Hacienda Restaurant. How many? Hold the wire, please." Covering the mouthpiece, he shouted, "Hey, Tony! Party of twelve want to know if you serve Sunday dinner at three o'clock."

Tony came to the door, wiping flour of his hands. He was smiling broadly. "Certainly, Sunday we serve dinner. Other days, tea and dinner only, from five o'clock." "Yes, we can take care of you," Eddy answered courteously, and hung up. "Phew! This makes a hundred and fifty already."

"Can you manage all this, Tony? Sure you have enough food and everything?" Bert said anxiously. Tony assured him that he had ample supplies and that, compared with a big hotel, cooking for this crowd was child's play.

Bert saw Pete outside, smoking a cigaret. He couldn't resist crowing. "We're booked solid for tonight and tomorrow, Pete. What have you got to say, now?"

Pete blew a cloud of smoke. "I still say you've got to bring 'em back again. When they find out you're not selling any booze, it's doubtful."

"Oh, come on, be a little cheerful, Pete. I've a hunch you'll be sticking around with us a good long time."

That night, in his tuxedo, Mr. Halliday was maitre d'hotel, and, in her becoming pink gown, Mrs. McLane presided over the busy cash register.

Pete's prediction was all wrong. These strangers were as enthusiastic about the place, the food, the entertainment, as their friends had been the night before. And evidently had a lot of fun on beer and soft drinks. There was a good sprinkling of evening dresses, but most of the crowd, Bert saw with satisfaction, were evidently townspeople, young folks like themselves, who probably would come again. The boys didn't know it, but the homey feeling, the complete absence of formality and swank—was the asset that would bring them often.

At closing time the cash register showed a gratifying intake. When the last car had driven off, they all sat down to coffee and turkey sandwiches. Mr. Halliday put his hand on Bert's shoulder.

"It looks as though your worries are over, boy. That crowd tonight will give you a lot of free advertising, too."

"Well, what I'm worrying about, right now, is how we'll ever get along without you folks to help us." He turned to Eileen, who sat beside him. "The customer are going to feel gipped if you aren't here to sing for them the next time."

Mrs. McLane looked at Eileen. She seemed as animated as the younger girl by the night's activity. "Haven't you told him yet, Eileen?" "What's she holding back now?" Bert demanded.

Stars in her brown eyes, Eileen told him quietly, "I resigned from my position two weeks ago, Bert before I came down here. I guess I had a hunch that you were really going to need me."

"All my life I'll need you, honey." He hugged her to him, before them all. "But I think you must be psychic. We weren't sure of things, ourselves."

"Your mother must be psychic, too, then." She stopped, letting Mrs. McLane make her own announcement.

"Eileen means I hired a woman to cook for the boarders, when I went home a few days ago."

CLARIFICATION OF LAW ASKED

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—Clarification of the State school code to permit the Commonwealth to pay for the transportation of students to vocational and special schools was suggested Friday by the general assembly's school commission.

Explaining the commission was making no recommendations but merely pointing out ways in which present law can be made clearer, commissioner Director "Paul H. Wueller said the law at present is ambiguous on both points.

Other changes proposed by the commission in a report to the 1947 legislature on the codification of school laws included:

"Broadening the powers of school boards to acquire property for 'proper school purposes' instead of limiting it to 'school building and playgrounds.'"

Adjustment of a contradiction in the present law which requires school districts to obtain approval from the state council of education for minor structural changes in buildings but apparently does not require approval of the state council to construct a building.

Lifting of restrictions barring county, district and assistant county or assistant district superintendents from teaching "in view of the current shortage of personnel."

The list of hospitals the engineers schedule to have under contract by June 30 includes:

Albany, N. Y.; Fort Hamilton, N. Y.; Wilmington, Del.; Newark, N. J.; Altoona, Pa.; Erie, Pa.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Beckley, W. Va.; Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Peekskill, N. Y.

Deaths Are Called Murder And Suicide

Burgess, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—Separate funeral services were arranged today for a former marine and his estranged wife, shot in a dairy store here Saturday.

They were Mrs. Florence Tony, 35, mother of three, and 31-year-old Thomas Tony. A store clerk said the shooting began when she turned her back to get Mrs. Tony a bottle of pop. When she looked again, both man and wife were lying on the floor, fatally wounded.

Deputy Coroner W. V. Lee called the shootings "apparently murder and suicide" but said he planned to continue his investigation.

Veteran Killed In Plane Crash

Latrobe, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—A 33-year-old Punxsutawney war veteran Robert J. Smouse, died Saturday from injuries suffered in the crash of his rented plane at the Latrobe airport.

Flying on a GI training course, Smouse was on a 160-mile three-corner flight. He had landed and taken off at Meadville but apparently overshot the landing field in his attempt to land here. His wife and three children survive.
